 Angelica Harris, recent author of Excalibur Reclaims Her King, began extending her many talents to the community this year through children's reading programs, speaking engagements, and literary coaching. She has made it her mission to reach out to people of all ages and promote a love of the literary arts.
 For Kids - Angelica's Excalibur Reading Program teaches a love of reading for children ages 3-14. Together, they read age-appropriate books and bring the stories to life with fun, interactive activities and meaningful group conversations. She invites her students to read with her several times each week. As a part of this program, Harris offers personalized reading parties for birthdays, camps, and school outings, complete with a pizza party!
 For Writers - Any aspiring writer can work directly with Angelica to build a page-turner from the bottom up! Whether you're a writer experiencing the infamous "block" or if you're not sure where to start your own story, Angelica loves to guide and inspire new writers.
 For Businesses -
 Angelica writes for people who don't have the time or energy to write themselves! Her own unique blog and article-writing skills can help companies communicate with the world.
 For Events -
 Angelica offers more than words on paper. Her speaking engagements offer a step-by-step method for writing, encouraging attendees to get their own story down on paper. She offers speaking engagements at schools, company events, and women's groups. Her life story and words of motivation are sure to inspire!
 With programs for kids, writers, businesses and special events, Angelica has a way to share her love of words with everyone in the community. If she can offer any of her services to you, contact her assistant Erin at Erin@RoundTableCompanies.com for available dates!
